NEW MILITARY WORK.

Just Published and for Sale,
At the Bookstores of R. Gray, and Cotton and Stewart—
PRICE 4 DOLLARS 50 CENTS—

Rules and Regulations for the Field Exercise and Manœuvres of the French Infantry, issued August 1st, 1791; and the Manœuvres added, which have been since adopted by the emperor Napoleon. Also, the Manœuvres of the Field Artillery, with Infantry. By Col. Irenee Amelot de Lacroix, late Chief of Brigade in the French service. In three volumes, the third volume consisting of plates.

The principal part of this work has been translated from French to English, by Lieut. Col. Macdonald, in the service of his Britannick majesty. Col. de Lacroix has not only availed himself of Macdonald's translation, but has retained the principal theories, with which Col M. has enriched his work, especially his comparison of the French tactics with the Prussian, and the principles of the different nations with the English; because those valuable notes are sufficient for such comparisons, and are in point. Col. De L. has augmented those notes.

The introduction of Col. de Lacroix' works will direct the attention of the young Americans to the study of learned tactics, the result of experience, and enable them to obtain the precision desirable in the warrior, for they must be convinced that a good officer forms a good soldier, and that the experience of ages has demonstrated, that the soldier will perform his duty correctly, when he is well commanded.

At the end of the second volume of this work, Col. De Lacroix has added the manœuvres of the field artillery with the infantry, according to the French principles. It is not necessary to lavish praises on the advantage of moving this thundering arm with the same facility and celerity as the line. Europe is now convinced and confesses it. He has added Plates, which demonstrate those manœuvres so essential to the great operations of war, and which will enable officers to execute them.

Col. de Lacroix has judged it also expedient to add to this book some new adopted manœuvres, which have been put in practice to great advantage in the face of an enemy. To enhance the value of this work is the only motive could induce him to augment its size.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

ABSCONDED from my farm at the mouth of Sameda, about the 8th of last month, a man whose name is RALPH, 21 years of age, between a black and yellow color, nearly 6 feet high, very stout made, yellowish eyes looking heavy—he has but little to say. His apparel was cambaing shirts, a negro cotton overjacket and trowsers. It is likely he has made away with them and procured other clothing. A free negro man by name Sambo, living on Judge Washington's estate, Mount Vernon, is his father, and it is very probable he is thereabout or in Alexandria, and with little trouble may be found.

The above reward will be given to secure him in Washington City or Alexandria jail.

CURIOSITIES—FROM THE LATE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

BONAPARTE'S MARRIAGE.

PARIS, March 27—30.

All the German Journals coincide as to the splendid and amiable qualities of the Princess who is at this moment invoked by the hearts of all Frenchmen. Her majesty possesses from nature the most eminent endowments, which have been expanded and perfected by a most excellent education.—Besides her vernacular language, she speaks French and Italian fluently and is acquainted with the Latin and English. She sings and plays, in a superior style, upon the piano forte; draws and embroiders in a distinguished manner; and her whole person is indicative of benevolence, amiability and majesty.

Her majesty the empress arrived at Compeigne on Tuesday, between the hours of eight and nine in the evening. Her majesty was in the best state of health. The emperor went to meet his august consort. The entrance of their majesties was made by torch light.

March 31.

Their Imperial majesties did not set out from Compeigne until 11 o'clock yesterday. The prefects of the department of the Oise, and the department of the Seine, repaired, each attended by a splended retinue, to the verge of their respective departments, to receive their majesties. The whole of the road from Compeigne to St. Cloud was crowded with spectators. Triumphal arches were erected in a number of villages. Their majesties passed near St. Dennis, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, on their way to St. Cloud, with the greatest rapidity.

The day before the civil marriage of his majesty the emperor, the chaptre of Notre Dame will repair to St. Cloud to carry thither the Imperial mantle crown, which was used at the coronation. The following day after the ceremony of the civil marriage, there will be a family dinner at St. Cloud, which will be followed by a spectacle. The gardens, and especially the orangery, will be illuminated in the most brilliant manner; the waters which are to play in the light, will exhibit a perfect novel sight.

On the day of the religious ceremony, the constituted authorities of the city of Paris will repair about noon, to the triumphal arch of l'Etoile, there to receive and compliment their imperial majesties on their entrance into the capital.

It is believed that their imperial majesties will go from St. Cloud to the Thuilleries by the Bois de Boulogne, the road of Neuilly, and the barrier of l'Etoile; they will alight from the carriage, under the vestibule of the palace, the steps of which have been made passable for coaches. It seems to be fixed that the court will assemble in the Salon des Marechaux, and pass in procession into the great gallery of the Museum. In this immense room have been placed seats in the form of an amphi-theatre, for the accommodation of 8,000 persons, who have been invited to this ceremony. Through these brilliant ranks their majesties will proceed to the hall of pictures, where a chapel has been consecrated in which the august couple will receive the nuptial benediction. The high altar, decorated with basso relieves, executed under the direction of M. Biennas, the emperor's goldsmith, the candelabra, the tabernacle, all the vessels and ornaments necessary for divine service, are of the highest magnificence, and will it is presumed, be afterwards appropriated to the use of the chapel of St. Denis.

Workmen are extremely busy in erecting the balcony from which their imperial majesties will hear the concert, & observe the fire-works, which will be exhibited in the palace de l'Etoile.

Some idea may already be formed of the effect which the illumination of the Thuilleries will produce independently of that of the buildings. The flower garden, the wall of Port Tournane, the alley of Indian chesnut, and terraces, will be studded with pots and illuminated vases.

The finest spectacle will be produced by the immense portico of fire presented by the grand alley; on each side of this alley, including the kind of broad vestibule formed at each extremity, are 150 columns, each of which will be furnished with 27 lamps; these columns are connected by a double frieze, which runs throughout the whole length, and will be capable of containing 33 lamps between each column. Thus, this single part of the illumination will exhibit 18,000 lamps many of which have double wicks. The 13 triumphal arches introduced on each side between the columns, will require nearly a like number of variegated lamps.

On the four interior fronts of the triumphal arch of L'Etoile are twelve emblematic medallions. The first, on the south front, represents the emperor, with this inscription underneath, "The happiness of the world is in his hands." The second is the cypher of the emperor and empress, the inscription, "We love her for our love of him, we love her for herself." The third a cupid holding a helmet, &c. "She will charm the leisure hours of the hero." The fourth a tree—"He is the author of our glory, he will render it eternal." The fifth a sun, rainbow, &c.—"She announces to the earth days of serenity." The sixth, an animal, &c. The seventh, on the north front, the empress—"She will be to the French a tender mother." The eigth, the cypher of the emperor and empress—"We owe to him the happiness of the august spouse who has given him so exalted a place in her thoughts." The ninth, the Seine—"His love will recognise the gift he has made us." The tenth, the Danube—"He enriches us with what he most dearly values." The eleventh, the arms of the empire. The twelfth, the arms of Austria.

The edifices which is constructing on the top of the turrets of Notre Dame will represent the Temple of Hymen, it will be 50 feet high. These turrets will not be illuminated; but the temple above them will be delineated by thousands of lamps, and seem suspended in the air. This æriel palace will have for accessories twelve blazing comets, and a great number of stars, which will sparkle on the tops of the highest buildings of the metropolis.

The illumination of the church of La Madelaine, will represent the facade of the temple of glory, as it will appear in a few years.

The cupola of the church of St. Genevieve, will be surrounded and surmounted with magnificent illuminations. Above this monument is constructing an antique tripod fourteen feet in height, including the steps; flames will arise from this tripod. Round the pedestal will be flambeaux and garlands. The sides of this cupola will be illuminated, as well as the eagles and cyphers in the intervals. About the attick will be placed garlands, candelabra, the cyphers of the emperor and empress, &c. To the columns of the dome will be suspended lustres. In the sub-basement will be seen simple stars and stars of the legion of honor, &c. The works in the interior of this church proceed with activity; in a few months it will be paved with black marble and nemours stone, compartments, and in mosaic.

At the ends of the bridge de la Concorde, and at the extremities of the abutments, will be placed eight obelisks, each 70 feet high, for illuminations; and on the balustrades of that bridge will be erected columns, at intervals, surmounted with crowns.

A magnificent illumination is preparing for the whole facade of the garden of plants, facing the bridge of Austerlitz. The lamps will exhibit the figures of elephants, camels, &c.

It is said that the fetes will not immediately succeed the marriage ceremony.—Their majesties will go the following day to Compeigne to spend the month of April—the rejoicings will begin with the month of May, and last till the conclusion of it.

The count de Segur has issued a notice, that the civil marriage of the emperor and king, will be on the 1st of April, in the palace of St. Cloud. The count has also issued an official programe, relative to the civil marriage—from which we make a few extracts: "At one o'clock on the day fixed for the civil marriage, all those who are to compose the train of their majesties, will assemble in the palace of St. Cloud, viz. those in the service of the empress, in the saloons of her apartment, on the side of the garden; and those in the service of the emperor, in the saloons of his apartment, next to that of the empress, on the side of the court.

"Such of the persons invited as cannot find accommodation in the gallery, will remain in the saloon of Mars and the grand apartments of the emperor, to see the procession.

"At the bottom of the gallery will be placed, on an estrade, two arm chairs, surmounted with a canopy; that on the right being for the emperor, and the other on the left, for the empress. At the foot of the estrade, and on the side of it, will be a table covered with rich tapestry, and with an ink-stand, and the registers of the civil state placed thereon."

Then follows the order of the procession. After the procession had reached the gallery, and the heralds and pages branched off, "The officers and grand officers of France and Italy, the maids of honor, and robing women, will proceed to take their station according to their rank behind their majesties' chairs. Their imperial majesties will take their seats on the throne; the princes and princesses to the right and left of the estrade, in the following order, and according to their relations of blood:—To the right of the emperor,—Madame; prince Louis Napoleon, king of Holland; prince Jerome Napoleon, king of Westphalia; prince Borghese, duke of Guazalla; prince Joachim Napoleon, king of Naples; prince Eugene, viceroy of Italy; the prince arch-chancellor, the prince vice grand elector. To the left of the empress, the princess Julia, queen of Spain; the princess Hortensia, queen of Holland; princess Catharine, queen of Westphalia; princess Eliza, grand duchess of Tuscany; princess Paulina; the princess Caroline, queen of Naples; the grand duke of Wurtzburg; the princess Augusta, vice queen of Italy; the princess Stephanie, hereditary grand duchess of Baden; the hereditary grand duke of Baden; the prince arch treasurer; the prince vice constable. Their majesties being seated, "The grand master of the ceremonies will take his majesty's orders and proceed to request his highness the prince arch-chancellor of the empire to go up to the emperor's chair.—One of the masters of the ceremonies will, at the same time give notice to the secretary of state for the imperial family, who will approach his highness the prince arch-chancellor, and make his obeisance to their majesties.

"His highness the prince arch-chancellor having bowed to their majesties, will say—"In the name of the emperor (at these words their majesties will stand up)—Sire does your imperial and royal majesty declare that you take in marriage her imperial and royal highness Maria Louisa, arch-duchess of Austria, here present." The emperor will answer, "I declare that I take in marriage her imperial and royal highness Maria Louisa, arch-duchess of Austria, here present."

"He will then put the question to her imperial and royal highness of Austria, in these terms: "Does her imperial and royal highness, Maria Louisa, arch-duchess of Austria, declare that she takes in marriage his majesty the emperor and king, Napoleon, here present?"

"Her imperial and royal highness will answer: "I declare that I will take in marriage his majesty the emperor and king, Napoleon, here present."

"The prince arch-chancellor will then pronounce the marriage in these terms:—"In the name of the emperor and the law, I declare that his imperial and royal majesty Napoleon, emperor of the French and king of Italy, and her imperial and royal highness the arch-duchess Maria Louisa, are united in marriage.

"Then the masters and assistants of the ceremonies will carry the table, on which are the registers of the civil state, up to the emperor and empress, and return to their places. The signing of the act of marriage will take place in the following manner:

"The secretary of state to the imperial family will present the pen to the emperor and then to the empress. Their majesties will sign it sitting, and without quitting their places. The princes and princesses will approach the table, receive the pen from the hands of the secretary, and subscribe their names, previously bowing to the emperor and empress. They will subscribe in the order settled by the ceremonial."

"The procession will reconduct their majesties to the apartment of the empress, and then retire. Upon this occasion, the empress will be in full court dress, & wear a crown set with diamonds."

"The persons invited to the ceremony will also be invited to the theatre. At the conclusion of the performance, the emperor will reconduct the empress to her apartment," &c. &c.

NEW YORK, June 9.

Spanish America—Declared Independent.

By the arrival of the brig Thomas, capt. Ingram, from Cumana, we have been politely favored with the following important state paper, issued by the supreme government of Caraccas, which we hasten to lay before our readers.

Declaration of Independence.

It has pleased Almighty God to grant to every country alike, the natural right of its own sovereignty.

These provinces, placed by Spain, fostered and protected by her power, have, and of right ought to have submitted to her guidance and direction during the period of their infancy, when from imbecility and weakness they were incapable of their own government and protection.

But Spain, deprived of her king by the unparalleled perfidy of the emperor of the French, her European state vanquished by his treachery and by his arms, and the ancient lawful and acknowledged government of the country destroyed by the violent outrages of his sanguinary policy, there exists neither reason, right, nor justice for continuing our dependence on a power that has no existence but in memory; policy and self preservation, therefore demand that we should provide for our common safety and the protection of these provinces by taking into our own hand the natural sovereignty of our country.

The period has at length arrived when these United Provinces possess both the strength and the power to protect themselves. With a population of nine millions of inhabitants, with an extent of fertile territory, superior to any empire on the globe, and abounding with all the riches that bounteous nature ever bestowed on the human race, it would be contrary to sound policy, in the present state of the world to submit, AND WE ARE DETERMINED NO LONGER TO SUBMIT TO THE DOMINATION OF ANY EUROPEAN OR FOREIGN POWER WHATEVER.

For whilst a lawful government existed in Spain, and her legitimate king sat upon her throne, we have ever been loyal to his person and faithful to his government, and our treasures have been the only support of the European monarchy and its allies, whilst we have been distressed by a war in which we had no interest whatever, and our country drained of those riches which nature has bestowed upon the inhabitants of America, for their own happiness, support and defence.

Under these considerations and to prevent the inevitable and ruinous consequences of falling under the yoke of the emperor of the French the tyrant of Europe and the oppressor of Spain: WE the Spanish provinces in America declare ourselves a FREE, SOVEREIGN and INDEPENDENT PEOPLE, not acknowledging the DOMINATION of any power on earth, refusing submission, and denying and repelling the authority of whatever nation may attempt dominion over us. This we unanimously engage and pledge ourselves to maintain and support with our LIVES, our FORTUNES, and our SACRED HONORS, calling upon every inhabitant in the provinces to aid and support in carrying into effect this, our laudable and just resolution, and establishing for ourselves and our posterity, a free, equitable and independent government, that shall secure our happiness and give us a place of honor and respect among the independent nations of the earth.

And we do earnestly entreat all foreign nations to acknowledge and guarantee our independence and to favor us with such alliance and assistance as may enable us to defeat the designs of the enemies of our country.

By thus disavowing our dependence on Spain, we solemnly appeal to Heaven for the rectitude of our intentions, and we do protest before the sacred majesty of God himself, that in all our measures we have ever been actuated by motives pure and honorable, and that we have no other design in view than the preservation of ourselves, and the protection of our common country. And we do most humbly supplicate that being who decides the fate of nations, to smile on our exertion, and to bless and protect this, our new established empire.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE subscriber, after a lapse of time necessarily consumed in the preparation of his house, respectfully announces to the citizens of Alexandria, as well as the community at large, that he has taken for a term of years that noted and eligible establishment known by the name of the CITY HOTEL, and once occupied by Mr. Gadsby, whose distinguished abilities as a Publican gave it an eclat which the subscriber hopes to preserve by his unremitted exertions in affording to all those who may confer on him the favor of their patronage, genteel and comfortable accommodations. The subscriber deems it unnecessary to indicate the multiplicity of conveniences attached to the City Hotel, and will only submit a description to that portion of travellers who have so generally attested its numerous advantages.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13.

DEAR SNOWDEN,

I was struck with considerable delight on noticing in your paper of the 6th, the publication signed "Arkwright;" because I did believe it contained just ideas, as to the profits and patriotism upon the manufacturing of Cotton. Secretary Gallatin is certainly in an error, as to the quantity each spindle is capable of spinning; because we in the country know that our females spin, by hand, at least double the quanity per year, which the Secretary states to be spun by the machine; so that I am inclined to think, Sammy, that Albert has been wrongly informed, and that "Arkwright" is too generous in taking that information for his data, upon which to calculate his profits. The writer is somewhat acquainted with the cotton spinning business, and has had the opportunity of frequent conferences with some of the manufacturers upon R Island, the result of which information is this, that upon the "Arkwright" spindle they spin, when every part of the machinery is in fix, a half pound per day, but that more than 100 to 120lbs yarn per year would be an unsafe estimate. Now, Sammy, by the good old rule of proportion, you and I know, that if one spindle will spin 100lbs. per year, only, that 1000 spindles will spin 100,000lbs. per year, which at the low price of 75 cents per pound, on an average, will amount on the sale to 75,000 dolls.

The expence of the raw cottton 100,000 lbs. at 20 cents,	20,000
Attendance (from Arkwright)	6,750
	26 750
Nett profits upon 1000 spindles	48 250
Dolls.	75,000

Now Sammy, Mr. Arkwright says the capital required (and I am inclined to think he is rather over than under the mark) is 100 dollars to each spindle. Here there is a clear profit of nearly 50 per cent. instead of your Arkwright profit of 25 per cent. Your friend Theo's. Pax, I notice in your paper of the 8th, seems to throw cold water upon your friend Arkwright, he tells you that his grandfather, it is, I think, had taught him to add 100 per cent upon the cost and deduct 50 from the profits. I will not agree with the grandfather of Pax, to add any thing to the cost upon the 100,000 dollars; but Mr. Pax may add, if he pleases, 40,000 dollars to Albert's 60,000, and he will find I have met him there. The truth is, Snowden, there is no pursuit we could follow so certainly profitable as that of cotton spinning—and why should our town remain inactive, while all around us are in a flourishing condition.—Why, I say, should we pursue that Terrapin-like plan to starve within our shell, rather than crawl out to get sustenance. As to the insinuation of your friend Pax, that our friends are out, or is contained in promises, I know it is not the case—and I know that if a new bank was projected, to consist of a capital of 500,000 dollars, that the stock would all sell, perhaps not all to the people of this town, but a good proportion of it. Why if the different banks in this town were as generous upon this subject as they have been upon others, they would lend a sufficiency to stock holders in a cotton company to pay up their shares; the stockholders would then have to pay bank interest only for their stock, and receive a dividend from the cotton company of 50 per cent.

Arouse then, I say, my fellow townsmen, sleep no longer—there are numerous situations near us to erect and encrease our works if sound productive, of which you and I can have no doubt. I will join our friend Arkwright in one thing, which is a hearty desire that the mayor of the town may call a meeting of its inhabitants, throw all the information we possess into view, and at the same time determine whether we can or can not without embarrassment, raise a sufficient fund to set to work 500 or 1000 spindles and let the result be notified by a publication of articles of association.

Your friend, PATRIOT,

Infidelity.—A gentleman to whom we are often indebted for commercial information, and whose advices are always correct, has favored us with the following extract of a letter from Naples, dated the 16th of March last, received by the last packet from England.

[N. Y. Gaz.

"Naples, March 16, 1810. All the remaining American vessels and cargoes are CONFISCATED and SOLD. The reason assigned is, the Non-Intercourse act, passed by the American government. American vessels in ballast, are allowed to load back with Neapolitan produce."

London, April 26.

A swift sailing cutter is to proceed to the Island of Sambrero, and elsewhere, in search of a sailor named Robert Jeffery, who was put on shore there by capt Lake, of the Recruit ship of war, of 18 guns.

[☞ This event has been made the subject of Parliamentary and other enquiry. On the 5th February, capt. Lake was tried by a Court Martial for his proceeding in it. It appeared in evidence that Jeffery was a thief and a "skulker;" and that being off the Island of Sambrero, Capt. Lake told his Lt. he would have no thieves on board, and ordered him to land Jeffery on the Island. When Ad. Cochrane learned the fact, he reprimanded Capt. Lake, and ordered him to go and take Jeffery off; but when the Island was explored, it was found to be a barren spot, without house or inhabitant. It appeared, however, by the American papers, that he was taken off by an American vessel and landed in the U States. Capt Lake admitted the fact, but thought the Island to be inhabited. The court then sentenced Capt. Lake to be dismissed the service.]

Boston Centinel.

Extract of a letter from Guernsey, to the American Consul at Falmouth (England) 15th Feb. 1810.

"In the course of my recent passage home from South America, I fell in with the uninhabited island named Trinidad, in the Southern Ocean, where we discovered the following words, scratched with a nail on a piece of a stern sheet of a boat:

"Ship Samuel, of Nantucket, 30th Sept. 1809 Charles Worth.

"We went on shore in order to increase our stock of water, and found on the beach a fine new American built boat, copper fastened, *with masts, oars, and other materials. We discovered places where the unfortunate seamen had kept fire, and huts built up for their shelter, in which were dead carcases of goats. They could not have starved, for goats and sweet water were plenty on the island. I deem it my duty to communicate this to your house, as American consul, for advertisement in the most public manner you think proper. It will afford great satisfaction to the owners and friends of the unfortunate crew, who, if not arrived at home, may yet be safe and well, by being taken off the island by some outward bound Indiaman, or gone to the Maine in their launch, a distance of 200 leagues. The unfortunate navigators must, according to my conjecture, have run on some rocks about 7 or 8 leagues to the eastward, and had recourse to their boats to reach the aforesaid island. We could find nothing of the ship.

"I landed on the island the 1st of Dec.

"I am, &c.

"CHARLES PEDERSON."

[No such boat belonged to the Samuel, Charles Worth, however, was second mate of that ship, which has been considered a missing vessel.]

A few important Queries.—Should N'Apolly on seize the John Adams, would it not be as well to make him a present of the President, the Constitution, the U. States, and the Congress, as a peace offering? The Wasp, the Hornet, the Vixen, the Revenge, the Etna, the Vesuvius, the Spitfire, and the Vengeance, might then be very well employed in preventing the British armed merchantmen from entering our waters.

Would it not be advisable, in consequence of the late seizures by N'Apollyon, (which we bear very patiently, all things considered) to show a little of our spirit, and punish both Great Britain and ourselves by laying another EMBARGO?

How much interest will N'Apollyon pay for the principal of the many millions of American property that he has confiscated? or is it not his principle to keep both principal and interest? Short reckonings make long friends.

If the good "neutral people of Holland, by treaty, delivered up the American property in their "neutral" ports to the rapacious N'Apollyon to be confiscated, would it be unjust in America to confiscate the DUTCH debt? We should readily have the illustrious Jefferson, "equal and exact justice to all men."

Which is the greatest robber, the dey of Algiers, the bashaw of Tripoli, or the emperor N'Apollyon?—Freeman's Journal.

EXTRACT

From a Treatise on Education.

[Written by the celebrated Doctor RUSH, of Philadelphia.]

"I have hitherto said nothing of the amusements that are proper for people, in a republic. Those which promote health and good humor will have a happy effect upon morals and government. To encrease this influence, let the persons who direct those amusements be submitted to good company; and subjected, by that means, to restraints in behaviour and moral conduct.—The theatre will never be perfectly reformed till players are treated with the same respect as persons of other ornamental professions. It is to no purpose to attempt to write or preach down an amusement, which seizes so forcibly upon the mind. Let ministers preach to players, instead of against them—let them open their churches and the ordinances of religion to them and their families; and, I am persuaded, we shall soon see such a reformation in the theatre, as can never be effected by all the means hitherto employed for that purpose. It is possible to render the stage by those means subservient to the purposes of virtue, and even religion. Why should the minister of the gospel exclude the player from his visits, or from his public or private instructions. The author of Christianity knew no difference in the occupation of men. He eat and drank daily with publicans and sinners."

NOTICE.—All those who have just claims against JOSEPH NAPOLEON BONAPARTE, sei disant, king of Spain, will please present them, legally authenticated, at the City of Washington, on the first Monday of December next.

Those who may be willing to accept payment in good lands, situated in either of the Floridas, shall have them on moderate terms, and immediate possession of them given, by Gen. Wade Hampton.

N. B. A correct plat of these lands will be laid on the table of the clerk of the house of representatives in due time.

FOR SALE, BY
R. GRAY, King-street,
AND
NICHOLAS KINGSTON,
Fairfax street.

Patent and Family Medicines,

PREPARED BY MICHAEL LEE & CO.
BALTIMORE.

For the preservation of health and cure of diseases, the following celebrated Medicines are confidently recommended, viz.

Lee's Anti-Bilious Pills,

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild—so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile, and to prevent its morbid secretions; to restore and amend the appetite, produce a free perspiration, and thereby prevent colds, which are often of fatal consequence: a dose never fails to remove a cold, if taken on its first appearance. They are celebrated for removing habitual constiveness; sickness at the stomach and severe head ache; and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

LEE'S
Worm-Destroying Lozenges.

This medicine which is as innocent and mild as it is certain and efficacious in its operation, cannot injure the smallest infant, should no worms exist in the body—but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders.

Lee's Elixir.

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, Catarrahs, asthmas, sore throats and approaching consumptions.

To parents who may have children afflicted with the Whooping Cough, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The Elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking of it.

Lee's Grand Restorative.

Proved by long and extensive experience to be absolutely unparalleled in the cure of Nervous disorders, consumptions, lowness of spirits, loss of appetite, impurity of blood, hysterical affections, inward weaknesses, violent cramps in the stomach and back, indigestion, melancholy, gout in the stomach, involuntary emissions, pains in the limbs, relaxations, obstinate gleets, flur albus (or whites) impotency, barrenness, &c. &c.

Infallible Ague & Fever Drops.

For the cure of Agues, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers.

Lee's Genuine
Essence & Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic Rheumatism, gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains bruises, pains in the face and neck, &c.

Lee's Sovereign Ointment for the ITCH.

A preparation which for pleasantness, ease, safety and expedition, gives place to no application whatever, free from mercury, or any pernicious ingredient, and unattended with that troublesome and tormenting smart which generally accompanies other medicines, prepared for the same purpose. This vegetable remedy is so mild, yet efficacious, that it may be used with the utmost safety on the most delicate pregnant lady, or on a child not a week old.

Lee's genuine Eye-Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Lee's genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe as an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, (the basis of other lotions) and of unparalelled efficacy in preventing and removing blemishes in the face and skin, of every kind, particularly freckles, pimples, pits after small pox, inflammatory redness, sourfs, tetters, ring worms, sun burns, prickly heat, premature wrinkles, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly without impeding that natural perspiration which is essential to health—yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and clear, improving the complexion and restoring the bloom of youth.

Damask Lip Salve.

Tooth-Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Anodyne Elixir,
for the cure of every kind of Head-Ache.

Restorative Tooth Powder, for the Teeth and Gums.

The Indian Vegetable Specific, for the cure of venereal complaints.

The proprietors think it necessary to remind the public that those medicines have been for several years prepared by the late Richard Lee and Son, to whom they are the immediate successors; the good effects of which are authenticated by some of our most respectable citizens. Without attending to our signature the purchaser may be disappointed by receiving no benefit, not having our genuine medicines.

To detect counterfeits, observe each article has on the outside wrapper, the signature of

Michael Lee & Co.
late Richard Lee and Son.
